

All Together Now: Key Issues

Privatization – Track Record & Key Issues

Supports several types of privatization, but intervened in the Cambie case to protect public health care. Used P3 privatization schemes in government, and through the Canada Infrastructure Bank, are encouraging other levels of government to use P3s. 3 projects getting funding from the Canada Infrastructure Bank are P3s. While the Liberal government closed down PPP Canada, which was created by the previous Conservative government, given how the Canada Infrastructure Bank was set up, it will fill a similar function. Has already funded one social impact bond project when in government. Information released so far about the Social Finance Fund set up by the Liberal government means the door is open to it being used to subsidize social impact bonds and organizations setting up social impact bonds.	Supports privatization including P3s, SIBs and contracting out. When in government, used P3 privatization schemes, and through PPP Canada, encouraged other levels of government to use P3s. Opposed the Canada Infrastructure Bank due to the level of funding not because opposed to P3s. Funded the first federal government social impact bond when in government. Called for greater use of social impact bonds for social services, and for justice and correctional services.	Largely opposes privatization, but has no position on social impact bonds. Opposed the Canada Infrastructure Bank because against federal funds being used to privatize public infrastructure. Enforce provisions of the Canada Health Act that prevent privatization and user fees in the health care system. No position taken on social impact bonds or on how the Social Finance Fund should be used.	Largely opposes privatization, but has no position on social impact bonds and there is concern about how new forms of P3 privatization schemes are viewed. Have traditionally opposed privatization, including P3 privatization schemes. Elizabeth May's proposal in July 2019 that SNC-Lavalin be put in charge of providing clean drinking water for First Nations communities as a form of "community service" has raised concerns about the party position on newer forms of privatization in which the privatization process is less obvious. No position taken on social impact bonds or how the Social Finance Fund should be used.